The PaTH Clinical Data Research Network www.pathnetwork.org is conducting a research study and wants to know about the experiences with health and illness of caregivers and families. By sharing these stories with researchers, we hope to focus research on topics that are of importance to patients and families of children and youth with special health care needs and likely to improve health and health care. Using MyPaTH Story Booth participants can record a conversation to share with researchers. If you are 18 or older and have special health care needs, we'd love to hear your point of view.
