

Join Our Community Leaders Program for Black Autistic Women*

Be a voice. Build a connection. Create change.

Family Voices is recruiting Black autistic women* to join our EmpowerHER Community Leaders Program and support autism education and acceptance in their local communities. EmpowerHER Community Leaders will receive training and resources about autism and how to do successful community outreach. The program runs for 8 months. EmpowerHER Community Leaders will share resources, host conversations, and strengthen community connections and be paid for their time and leadership.

Who should apply?

- Black autistic women (18+) *as well as non-binary, autigender, trans and gender-expansive autistic people
- Individuals connected to their community, schools, faith groups, nonprofits, or grassroots networks
- No formal experience is required; lived experience and community connection matter most.

About the EmpowerHER Community Leaders Program

The EmpowerHER Community Leaders Program at Family Voices is funded by the WITH Foundation and was developed by and for Black autistic women. The program is designed to:

- Train, and sustain a community of Black autistic women who are prepared to lead community education about autism and the transition to adulthood
- Center and uplift the experiences of Black autistic girls and women
- Increase access to culturally responsive autism information and resources in Black communities
